Total Care for the Catastrophically Injured

Romanucci & Blandin, LLC is a personal injury law firm with a mission and a passion for helping the catastrophically injured. Antonio M. Romanucci and Stephan D. Blandin have dedicated their professional and personal lives to aiding accident victims and their families in a search for the restitution they deserve. Experienced, sensitive representation, provided with care and understanding, are the hallmark of their service to victims of catastrophic personal injury, wrongful death and workers' compensation claims.

Over the years, Antonio and Stephan have come to understand the emotional, physical and financial toll that an accident takes on victims and their families. With the heartfelt belief that justice will prevail, they engage in tireless preparation and the utilization of countless resources to help their clients win in a court of law.

The firm's commitment to helping the seriously injured extends beyond the courtroom: They are passionate advocates for the injured at the national and local levels through legislative action and volunteer commitments on the boards of organizations that assist the severely injured.
